

Thaddeus Seymour, Jr., Ph.D.
Senior Vice President, Lake Nona

Thad Seymour leads planning, marketing, sales and business development for Lake Nona in Orlando, Florida. His role encompasses institutional recruitment and new business ventures, as well as cultivating collaboration among the Lake Nona partners. Thad also serves as President of the Lake Nona Institute, whose mission includes innovating and modeling best practices in healthy and sustainable community development.

Prior to joining Lake Nona, Thad was a senior executive with specialty pharmacy CuraScript, a $3 billion subsidiary of Express Scripts. He also has extensive experience in healthcare informatics, including co-founding a venture-backed electronic medical records company. Thad has served previously on the boards of multiple healthcare technology businesses and as a director of the Florida Venture Forum.

A board member of BioFlorida, co-chair of bioOrlando, and chair of the Florida Research Consortium, Thad is active in promoting the importance of research in the acceleration of economic development in the state. Thad is also a board member of Florida's Blood Centers and chair of Shepherd's Hope, which provides medical care to uninsured and underinsured patients in nine clinics throughout Central Florida.

Thad holds a BA from Dartmouth College, an MA and Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, and an MBA from the Kellogg Graduate School of Management at Northwestern University. Thad and his wife, Katie, have three children.
